The art of creation needs constructive force and artistic talent. It needs excellent analytic reasoning, accurate visual skills and a mind full of imagination. The students of primary wing of Modern Senior Secondary School seem to master these skills at a very young age. Seeing these students working laboriously and sincerely is a treat to one's eye. Reporters of life magazine went to see them and were extremely overjoyed to see the enthusiastic response to this introduction. There were students of class III, IV and V and they were

The students were made to sit in different groups and were allotted different tasks. They made paper chain and wrote all the qualities of a good friend on that chain. They also made a bird from a yarn. They learnt division of labour, team work & cooperation. The warm response and enthusiastic approach was visible from the fact that nearly forty students participated in this activity. These students will learn creativity, innovation, coordination, healthy team spirit, team work dedication, leadership and these values will
