TODAY, 'GRAND PARENTS' DAY' was celebrated in our school .The students of class V greeted their grandparents and they too were happy to come to their grandchildren's school. The participants and the primary wing students looked smart and cheerful. Coming to the anchors, they spoke fluently with full on beautiful songs. To imbibe the feelings of love for the grandparents, the students of primary wing presented a skit. It exhibited the importance of grandparents in our lives. It showed that we are incomplete without them. They are the ones who take care of us when our parents are not around. As the confidence and enthusiasm.

The programme started with the lighting of the lamp. Music students recited a shabad in their melodious voices. After the inauguration, some of our little modernites recited poems in the praise of their grandparents. After the poem recitation, the girls of class V gave a lively dance performance families are becoming nuclear, the children are deprived of the love of their grandparents. In the end there was a surprise item for the grandparents which they enjoyed very much. The programme was concluded with a game of chess and carom between the grandparents and this brought them down their memory lane.
